- At the end of June 1951, a Soviet unit equipped with armored vehicles was quartered in private houses and barns in Taurog en (55°14"N/22°15"E). No barracks installations were observed in the town. Tauroggen was occasionally used as a base for infantry units assigned to anti-partisan operations.
- Prior to way 1951, a unit of about 200 troops was quartered in a three-story barracks building, about 30 meters square, about 1.5 km north of Rietavas (55°42'N/21°5''E), on the west side of the road to Plunge. Ac ording to rumors, the troops were infantrymen and were occasionally committed against partisans.
- 3. According to local residents, a motorized reconnaissance unit and a horse-drawn unit totaling 1,500 to 2,000 troops were stationed in Plunge at the end of 1950. It was rumored that the recondaissance unit was equipped with amored vehicles. The two units were quartered in a tarracks installation located northeast of the Plunge railroad station.
